

NACKEY S. LOEB
SCHOOL OF COMMUNICATIONS

Loeb School Offers Facebook: Just for the Fun of It

MANCHESTER - The Nackey S. Loeb School of Communications is offering a half-day workshop to help unlock the mysteries of Facebook.

The workshop, "Facebook: Just for the Fun of It," is being offered twice at the school on Saturday, March 5. The first session runs 9-noon and will be repeated from 12:30-3:30. The fee is $30 per person.

Instructor Judi Window of 311 Management Services will concentrate on using Facebook – to keep up with family and friends. The workshop also will include easy-to-use ideas for organizing your desktop, finding links and video and keeping your online world simple!

The session is intended for people who want to set up Facebook accounts, or who already have one, but want to learn ways to use it better.

The workshop is limited to 20 students. For more details and to register, go to www.loeb.school.org or call 627-0005.

Contact:
Charlene Harris
charris@loeb.school.org
627-0005