

The Nackey S. Loeb School of Communications

Presents

a WWII Family Memoir Event by Author
Marina Dutzmann Kirsch

Thursday, August 6, 2015, 6:30 p.m.

A finalist-award-winning true story written by the daughter of the protagonists, that relates the experiences of Rolf, a Latvian aeronautical engineering student forced to repatriate to Nazi Germany before the first Soviet takeover, and Lilo, the young German woman he meets in 1940 Berlin. Flight of Remembrance is a love story that spanned 74 years and two continents. It is also the story of Rolf's lifelong passion for aeronautical engineering and the expansion of his dream into the postwar US space program.

The author will discuss the book's subject matter, protagonists, and sources of inspiration accompanied by World War II era photographs as well as covering information about the writing and publishing process.

All are welcome. Free for all veterans and spouses, $10.00 for others. Signed books will be available for purchase at $20.00 each (cash or checks accepted).

For more information, call 603-627-0005, visit the Nackey S. Loeb website at www.loeb.school.org, or email loeb.school@loeb.school.org.

Visit the author's website at www.kirschstonebooks.com.