

Fellowship Program

Nackey S. Loeb

Enter

Established in 2006, the Fellowship Program recognizes residents who have made a commitment to their studies at the Nackey S. Loeb School of Communications. The Fellowship is a non-degree learning opportunity.

Requirements include a total of five classes and workshops. Work completed since 2000 is eligible and there is no time limit after application.

Nackey S. Loeb Fellows will be recognized annually and presented with a keepsake marking their achievement in communications and journalism studies.

Nackey S. Loeb

The Nackey S. Loeb Fellowship is supported by the generous educational legacy of Nackey Scripps Loeb, the late President and Publisher of the Union Leader Corp.

To apply, candidates must submit:

Cover sheet with your name, mailing address, e-mail address, telephone number, date of birth and current occupation or grade.

Essay of 200-350 words on why the First Amendment, particularly Free Speech and Free Press liberties, is important to you.

Class or workshop requirements:

First Amendment Law: Six-week class at the school.

A combination of any other four six-week classes or workshops at the school.
